F-1 Extension of Status Request

U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) requires that you finish your program of study by the completion date on your I-20. The date on the I-20 is established by the International Student and Scholar Center admissions to reflect the average length of time it should take a student to complete the degree requirements. If, during the course of your studies it becomes necessary to extend your I-20, ISSC can provide I-20 extensions to those who are eligible and apply in a timely manner.

Eligibility

You must request a program extension before the program end date of your current I-20. Failure to do so will result in loss of your F-1 status.

In order to obtain a program extension, you must show that you have continually maintained status and that the extension is needed for compelling academic or medical reasons, such as a change of major (before your final semester) or research topic, unexpected research problems, or a documented illness. Delays in completing your program caused by academic probation or suspension are not acceptable reasons for program extension approval [8 CFR § 214.2 (f) (7) (iii)].

A program extension can be granted only for documented academic or medical reasons. You may be eligible for an I-20 extension if the following criteria are met:

- The delay was caused by documented academic or medical circumstances, you have sufficient financial resources to fund your studies and living expenses, and the extension is requested in a timely manner, with sufficient time for processing before the current expiration
- If your program end date has expired or you do not meet the eligibility requirements to apply for a program extension, you may be eligible to file for reinstatement to F-1 status with USCIS, for which you will have to pay a substantial fee. In addition, failure to apply for an extension of stay in a timely manner is a violation of F-1 regulations, which can carry heavy penalties.

The following are NOT valid reasons for I-20 extensions:

- To enroll in extra courses or repeat the same course for personal interest or to improve one’s GPA/grade
- To engage in research on or off-campus
- To finish pending coursework for an incomplete grade
- To engage in non-required Curricular Practical Training (CPT)
- To enroll in coursework delayed by participation in non-required CPT
