

Assistant Professor of Medical Laboratory Sciences

The Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences, in the Dumke College of Health Professions at Weber State University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track position to begin Fall 2016. The successful candidate will possess an MS, EdD, or PhD, and be an ASCP certified Medical Technologist/ Medical Laboratory Scientist. The individual will be responsible for teaching undergraduate courses focused in Clinical Microbiology and Molecular Diagnostics. Alternative teaching responsibilities may be considered dependent on expertise and education.

Weber State University was founded in 1889 and has a dual-mission of offering a wide-range of baccalaureate and graduate programs while meeting regional community college needs. The University enrolls approximately 25,000 undergraduates and is an open enrollment university. The 400 acre main campus is located on the western front of the Wasatch Range of the Rocky Mountains in historic Ogden, Utah.

The Dumke College of Health Professions provides excellence in: education for students, support for faculty, resources for our healthcare partners, and partnerships with local and global communities. The College enrolls approximately 8,000 students and contains Departments in Dental Hygiene, Emergency Care and Rescue, Health Administrative Services, Health Sciences, Medical Laboratory Sciences, Nursing, Radiological Sciences, and Respiratory Therapy. Of the 1,322 students that graduated in the 2013/14 academic year 45 percent received associate, 49 percent received bachelor, and 6 percent received graduate degrees.

The Department of Medical Laboratory Sciences accepts approximately 180 on-campus and online students each year in the Associates of Applied Science (AAS) and Bachelors of Science (BS) programs. Our department was awarded a 10-year NAACLS accreditation in 2015 for both the MLT and MLS programs. Approximately 20 percent of our graduates continue on to graduate or medical school. Our department is committed to faculty sustainability through work-life balance with the surrounding area providing year-round recreation.

To apply, complete the online faculty/staff data form (<https://jobs.weber.edu>) and attach the required applicant documents: a cover letter, curriculum vitae (CV), academic transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a list of three references. The screening of applications will begin December 6, 2015. The position will remain open until filled. A criminal background check is required as a condition of employment. (EOE/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability) Salary is commensurate with experience and education. Weber State University provides an excellent benefits package for their faculty. For any inquiries please contact the Search Committee Chair, Matthew Nicholaou Dr.P.H., MT(ASCP) at matthewnicholaou@weber.edu.

