PROJECT INFORMATION SHEET

Title of Study: A Walk in Someone Else’s Shoes: Empathy through Embodiment

Experiment Open Date: November 16, 2015  Experiment Close Date: April 01, 2016

(IRB) Approval Number: 15-SS-219

Participation Credits: 2 credits

Time (duration): Approximately 20 minutes

Brief Description of Study:
This study will be examining the level of empathy that an individual can embody though utilizing dolls and scripts to act out a date rape scenario. After acting out the scenario the participants will be asked to fill out a brief survey. Participation in this study may prove to be uncomfortable for some individuals.

Participation Criteria
Students between the ages of 18 to 70 may participate in this study.

Location
See attached sign-up sheets for locations and times.

Researchers:
Dr. Aaron Ashely (psychology department)
David Sleight (psychology student)

Questions?
Please contact David Sleight david.s.sleight@gmail.com or Dr. Aaron Ashely AaronAshley@weber.edu if you have questions. Please include the Study Number in the subject line of the email.