Overview Information about the English Teaching Program

The English Teaching program at Weber State University prepares students to effectively teach diverse students in secondary education. Our majors graduate not only with a comprehensive knowledge of their content area but also with cutting-edge pedagogical knowledge in theory and practice. Students from the program are regularly recruited for employment in area school districts even before they graduate. Additionally, many of our students go on to pursue their own research in graduate school.

Overall, the English Teaching program is noted for:

- Small, seminar-style courses that feature integrated teaching.
- High degrees of interconnectivity and mentorship among faculty and students.
- An emphasis on transformative practices for equitable and inclusive education
- High-impact professionalizing experiences and opportunities.

The program includes 5 courses, only 2 of which should be taken together during the same semester.

- Young Adult Literature (ENG 2420) is the introductory course and should be taken early in the B.A. program. This course is the prerequisite for all other English Teaching courses. It is typically offered during both Fall and Spring semesters.
- Topics in English Teaching (ENG 3755) is a variable title course that should be taken after the Young Adult Literature and before English 3020 and 3410. The course is typically offered in the Fall. (Please note: all of the required literature courses should be completed before taking this class.)
- Teaching English (ENG 3020) and Teaching Writing (ENG 3410) should be taken together. Ideally these should be taken after a student completes the Procore (Secondary Education Core) courses through the College of Education. Both of these classes are offered in the Fall. (Please note: all of the required literature courses should be completed before taking this class.)
- The English Teaching Capstone (ENG 4910) is a 1-hour, online course that should be taken during a student's final semester of student teaching. This course is offered during both Fall and Spring semesters.

Avoid misadvisement! Consult your academic advisor (weber.edu/advisors), the WSU Catalog (weber.edu/catalog), and your CatTracks degree evaluation (log in to your eWeber Student Portal).
