JERRY AND VICKIE MOYES
COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

2019 Convocation

April 26, 2019
Dee Events Center

To The 2019 Graduates:

This year's theme really highlights for each of you the exciting opportunities and challenges that the future will offer as a result of your diligence and hard work in the present. We celebrate the dedication and effort that has brought you to this point and share with you the excitement of what your future holds.

We trust that the experiences which you have had, the knowledge and skills that you have gained, and the vision that you have developed as you completed your respective degree here in the Moyes College of Education will provide a powerful springboard for future success as you head off to great places and to climb your own mountains.

The faculty and staff of the College wish you the very best and hope that Weber State University and the Jerry and Vickie Moyes College of Education continue to be a part of your future

Jack L. Rasmussen, Dean

Jerry and Vickie Moyes College of Education

The Moyes College of Education supports the University's commitment to academic excellence and alliances with the community through an orientation that specifically addresses three elements that are absolutely essential to a vital, productive society:

- INDIVIDUALS whose understanding, attitudes and behavior promote personal and community health and fitness in ways that enhance the quality of life throughout their lifespan.
- FAMILIES that have the internal and external support to enable them to provide nurturing environments that support the continuing development of children and adults toward their highest potential.
- EDUCATORS and public school systems that provide a strong academic knowledge base while ensuring that all students develop a level of self-esteem and a sense of belonging that will encourage and enable them to become productive members of society.
