

Name: Jace Brown

Title: Assistant Professor

Education: BA, English, Brigham Young University
MA, English, Brigham Young University
PhD, Philosophy of Teaching and Learning, The Ohio State University

Awards & Honors

Courses Taught:

EDUTL 2368 – Introduction to Children’s Literature
EDUTL 3356 – Literature for Adolescents
ENGL 230 – Studies in Literature
ENGL 313 – Expository Writing for Elementary Education Majors
ENGL 420 – Young Adult Literature
ENGL 1010 – Introduction to Academic Writing
ENGL 2010 – Intermediate Academic Writing and Research
ENGL 3690 – Writing: Elementary School
ENGL 4840 – Multicultural Children’s Literature
Writing 150 – Writing and Rhetoric

Research & Publications:

Crowe, C., & Brown, J. (2019). Roll of Thunder, Hear my Cry: Disrupting the “all-white world of children’s books.” In V. Malo-Juvera & C. Hill (Eds.), Critical explorations of young adult literature (pp. 137-151). Routledge.

McNair, J. C., Alexander, L. D., Boyle, C. E., Brown, J., Cornelissen, A., Crossley, J. S., McNamara, E. K., & Thomas, C. A. (2011). The end is only the beginning: Exploring endpapers in picturebook biographies. The Reading Teacher, 75(2), 207-218.

Service

Chair of the Outstanding Books for Young People with Disabilities Committee for The United States Board on Books for Young People

Committee Member for The Ohio State University Newbery Award Symposium Fall 2024

Fun Fact

I have a photic sneeze reflex – I sneeze 2-3 times when I’m exposed to sunlight ☺