Oct 3 E-Update

Staff Updates: We are excited to welcome the following new staff: Amy Blunck, Associate Clinical Mental Health Counselor; Alexa Price as an International Admissions Advisor; and Kristen Stone as the Davis Student Services Administrative Specialist.

We’d like to congratulate WSU Alumni Andrea Salcedo for being selected to receive the 2017 NASPA Region V Undergraduate Rising Star Award.

Starfish is now live to campus. Savanna Grotz will be working in the coming weeks to get our Student Affairs Departments set up with Starfish. In the meantime, visit weber.edu/starfish to find out more information about Starfish. You can also find out more information by consulting the attached document.

The Stewart Library Testing Center has opened to include Sunday hours, the first testing center on our campus to do so. These hours have already met with positive reaction from administration and members of the student body.

Utah NASPA is this Friday, October 6, 2017 at Westminster College. Please join us to affirm your work and identify new programs and resources that can make an impact on our WSU campus. The conference exists to continue a network of professional support in the State. This year's keynote speaker is Justin Jones-Fosu. You may register for the conference online.

The 19th Annual Diversity Conference “Activism is in the Action: Civility, Community and Starting From Where You Are” is October 5 and 6. The Diversity Conference will kickoff on Thursday, October 5th at WSU Davis Campus in the Building 3 Ballroom at 5:30 p.m. with a reception. Our opening Keynote speaker will be Nubia Pena, an expert in activism, leadership, and rights, as she sets the foundation for our conference with an engaging workshop. The Conference will continue on Friday, October 5 with workshops from 8:30-11:20 a.m.. The keynote speaker, Richard Ray Perez will speak at 11:30 a.m. in the Ballrooms.

The revitalized Davis Campus Student Health Center held a grand re-opening during the first two weeks of classes. Thanks to a new partnership with the WSU Nurse Practitioner program, licensed faculty members will provide additional clinical hours and an expanded set of medical services to students.

Our next Student Affairs Division Meeting, “Student Success: Making Meaning of Cross-Racial Interaction,” is October 19 from 1:30 – 3 p.m. in Shepherd Union Ballroom C. During this meeting, we will be watching a NASPA Webinar and having a group discussion surrounding how students interact with one another cross-racially and how best we can meet students where they are when programming and interacting with students at Weber State. We hope to see you there!

Diversity Update: The first full week of October marks National Diversity Week, founded in 1998 to raise awareness about the diversity, which has shaped and continues to shape, the United States. It is celebrated on a city- or company-wide scale across the U.S., though some organizations observe it at other times of the year.

Tech Trivia: If you think someone might be reading your emails, check your "last account activity." In inbox view, scroll all the way down, and in the bottom right corner in tiny text, you'll see "Last account activity: X minutes ago." Click "Details," and Gmail will reveal exactly when each IP address accessed your account, plus what type of device they were using.

Have a great week!
