John C. Wolthuis graduated from Weber St. University in 2006 with a B.I.S. degree, focusing on areas of emphasis in Zoology, Chemistry and Sales & Service Technology. Upon graduation, John and his wife Brittney moved to Portland, Oregon, where he started at West Coast Container, Inc. (WCC). John currently serves as Vice President of WCC, where he runs the day-to-day operations.

WCC is a distributor working with blow molded, injected molded, and compression molded plastic packaging. WCC also supplies glass packaging used in the food and beverage industries. WCC has been nominated as one of the fastest growing privately held companies in Oregon and provides more than 1.5 Billion caps, bottles, and jars annually to consumer brands being nationally distributed in major retailers throughout the U.S.
