Warren Osborn is a serial entrepreneur who has founded ten companies. One of Warren’s recent companies, Braven, created a nearly indestructible waterproof speaker allowing speakers to go anywhere you go and became the leading outdoor portable speaker brand. Another of Warren’s companies, Luvaire, created the highest-end essential oil diffusers in the market and coupled home decor into its diffusers. One of his companies created the Blu-ray disc package, which established the worldwide standard for high-definition movie packaging. His companies have sold hundreds of millions of products.
