Title: Doomsday Cometh

Speaker: Lee Badger

Abstract: According to a 1960 model, global population numbers (human, that is) will go to infinity next year. The model predicted that doomsday to be November 13, 2026; it's a Friday. The increasing per capita growth rate of this model was a main assumption in my more realistic 2003 model of global population-resource interaction. I will report on both and compare model predictions with updated numbers.

Refreshments will be served.
