Psychology Practicum: Fall 2022

- General Requirements
  - 18 Psychology Credits (3 from PSY 1010). Note additional course requirements specific to each site below.
  - PSY GPA of 3.0 or higher

- Ogden Treehouse Children’s Museum: Child Development
  - (Supervised by Cade Mansfield)
  - Students will witness various aspects of child learning as well as social-emotional family processes. Students will gain an appreciation for research strategies used to study child development. Students will meet regularly with Dr. Mansfield to discuss research on child development and their observations at The Children’s Museum.

- WSU Counseling Center: Outreach Team
  - (Supervised by Teri Kay)
  - Practicum students will facilitate support groups, psychoeducational groups, and/or one-on-one support chats with students. Additional outreach opportunities such as leading outreach activities and distributing promotional materials may be required. Pre-requisite requirement include PSY 2020 and PSY 3010.

- Teaching Assistant
  - (Supervised by Shannon McGillivray)
  - You will be assigned as a Teaching Assistant in an Introductory Psychology course, and will be expected to attend those classes and provide review/study sessions for those students. You are expected to work and collaborate with the professor for the course. In addition, you will meet for one hour a week with Dr. McGillivray (time TBA) to review strategies associated with effective teaching and learning. You must have taken PSY 1010 within the last 5 years with a grade of at least A-.

- Youth Impact After School Program
  - (Supervised by Melinda Russell-Stamp & Maria Parrilla de Kokal)
  - Students will learn about activities and environments that foster positive youth development (PYD) among children and adolescents. Students will apply what they are learning in an after school program for youth in grades K – 12 through mentoring, tutoring, and implementing resiliency-building activities. Weekly meetings will be held with practicum students and Dr. Stamp (TBA).

- Process
  - Complete and return application to the Psychology department secretary (room-379) or email to melindarussellstamp@weber.edu by Friday, 4/8/2022.
  - Interview with faculty (we’ll schedule this with you).
  - We let you know if we can offer you a Practicum placement.
  - Complete a background check (after you are offered a site). This is for sites that involve work with children and adolescents.
  - You will need a registration override in order to register for Practicum. Please see Mickey for assistance.
